MESSAGE FROM THE CEO

STILL I RISE

The powerful poem by Maya Angelou is an anthem of the black struggle, hope and resilience. The final phrase "Bringing the gifts that my ancestors gave, I am the dream and the hope of the slave. I rise. I rise. I rise." - eloquently captures her conviction and life purpose.

Whatever your culture, background or stage in life, every individual can draw from those three words "still I rise". The unvarnished truth of life is that it is a tapestry of joy, loss, achievement, and struggle. Though we may be surrounded by friends and loved ones, our personal journey will be taken on our own; the quality of the journey will be the result of our fortitude and decisions about how we choose to embrace the world. Yet, like Maya Angelou who drew on the gifts her ancestors gave her to pursue a dream, we are the product of sacrifices made by those who came before us. In that sense we are not alone.

During the difficult moments when your self-talk is, "I am too tired; I am hurting; I deserve a break" – draw strength from your heart when it is saying "go; it will be good for me; I have much to offer the world".

Woody Allen said, "If 90% of success in life is showing up, the other 10% depends on what you're showing up for." Show up for those things that lift you up. That can mean calling a friend you have been thinking of but have not talked to in years. Writing a letter to say thank you to someone who is not expecting it. Finally picking up the Ukulele that has been waiting to be played.

When my friend Janet Young was approaching 90, she told me with a laugh, "Daniel, I feel invincible." When she was turning 93, she wanted to celebrate her birthday in the new EWC that was still under construction. Wearing a hardhat and moving with her walker, she was undeterred when I told her the elevator was not yet working. She was determined to eat her birthday cake enjoying the view from the second floor. She parked her walker at the bottom of the staircase and with a twinkle in her eye, said, "let's go", and proceeded to pull herself up stair by stair – it was her Mt Everest. Janet never misses choir on Tuesday and will celebrate her 98th birthday in December.

The heroes I see every day are the people who overcome pain, discomfort, or anxiety to show up - and what's more, they show up with a heart filled with gratitude. That is grace. Despite daily chronic pain, my wife Elaine wakes up every morning assuming it will be a good day.

Our society celebrates feats of strength and athleticism by highly trained athletes. The discipline and dedication are a marvel. Personally, I reserve my awe for those whose opponents are memory loss, a physical disability or depression and still they rise.

Barb Halseth and the "Button Store"

Edmonds Senior Center Thrift Store Announces Volunteer Extraordinaire Retires

As a nonprofit organization we recruit volunteers that will be dedicated to our cause, a team player mindset, boundless creativity and enjoy working with others.

Barbara Halseth started at the Senior Center in 2003 doing a variety of tasks including organizing picnics, working on the grass roots committee, and even making scrambled eggs for senior breakfast! Her dedication to the Edmonds Senior Center spans over 22 years and is extraordinary.

Barbara's legacy is one of generosity of time where she managed the Edmonds Senior Center Thrift - 2019. It is estimated that 100's of volunteers were influenced by her leadership. It was a place where seniors gathered after their classes at the waterfront building, passengers from the ferry boat stopped by to treasure hunt, and many grandchildren visited as grandma and grandpa shopped.

She assisted in the transition of the store from the waterfront to its current location at Westgate Shopping Center in 2019. Since that time, Barbara has been running the notions department for the store. It is a very meticulous and demanding department with organizing all the buttons, zippers, knitting needles, threads, yarn and more. It is known as the "Button" store to our sewing customers.

Barbara will retire for the second time at the end of March 2024. "I enjoyed my volunteer time with Edmonds Senior Center Thrift Store and all the people associated with it," says Barb. "It was wonderful to contribute to the community and I found it personally enriching," she continued.

Congratulations and thank you Barbara Halseth for extraordinary service to your community, your positive attitude, and to making a difference in Edmonds.

WHAT IS THIS PLACE?

Founded as the South County Senior Center, the Edmonds Waterfront Center is a nonprofit multigenerational, multicultural hub that bridges generations and communities - helping people live their best lives. It is a rejuvenating place where people of all ages come to connect, learn, and celebrate.

Amenities include a health and wellness center, art gallery, coffee & gelato, daily lunch for seniors and 77 programs including exercise, art, music, games, discussion groups and trips.

All are welcome. There is no age requirement to join and you do not have to be from Edmonds. If you choose to become a member ($35 / year), you will get the newsletter, $1 coffee, and discounts on many programs. Non-members are welcome to participate in our programs but will pay a higher rate.

The weekends are for celebrating! The dramatic waterfront location makes it a memorable place for weddings, performances, celebrations of life, birthday parties and other special occasions. All rental proceeds go to support EWC programs.

Whether you come to volunteer, take a class, or just meet a friend, there is a place for everyone to belong at the EWC!

Thursday, June 13; 1:30pm-2:30pm

Location: Community Room B

Cost: None

Facilitator: AARP

Register: Opens May 1; Online/Phone/2nd Floor Reception
AARP surveys consistently find that older adults want to remain in their current homes and communities for as long as possible. Yet barely one percent of the nation's housing supply contains any "universal design" elements — such as single story living or a sink that can be reached from a wheelchair. That's where AARP HomeFit comes in. This presentation can help individuals and families decide what type of home adaptations are needed to make their current or future residence — or that of a loved one — their "lifelong home."

CLINICAL HEALTH & WELLNESS PROGRAMS

REIKI HEALING

1st/2nd/4th Tuesdays
May 7, 14, 28, June 4, 11, 25
12:30pm-3:00pm

Location: Clinic Room

Cost: $70 member | $80 non-member

Facilitators: Energy Healing Group: Karen Gilbraith, Terra Lea Dennis, Catherine Braun

Register: Phone/2nd Floor Reception

Reiki is a form of energy healing that originated in Japan in the early 20th century. Reiki is an alternative healing modality that channels and guides 'life force energy' throughout the body. A Reiki session is non-invasive, and utilizes a 'no-touch' or 'soft-touch' approach as the practitioner moves their hands just above, or lightly on, the recipient's fully clothed body. Energy is then gently guided throughout the body to promote the recipient's self-healing abilities. Reiki can complement any medical care, and provide deep relaxation, pain relief/management, and an overall sense of wellbeing. Wear comfortable clothes, bring a pillow or blanket for comfort if you'd like.
